

ADMONTER. ADDING QUALITY TO YOUR LIFE.

SUSTAINABILITY MADE TRANSPARENT.

In today's world many speak of sustainability but we, at Admonter, actually guarantee it. The PEFC certificate on our products proves that our timber originates from forests with sustainable forestry, where the amount of timber which is cut equals that which is re-grown. But this is not the whole story. Rather than concentrating on rare tropical timbers, we have always focused on native wood species and in order to preserve the natural resources the wood waste from our production is converted into new energy in our own biomass heater. Therefore choosing Admonter is choosing nature itself in every respect.

EXPERIENCE – MANY HAVE IT...BUT NOT AS MUCH AS WE DO.

In the course of our rich history, which goes back 900 years, our know-how as well as our quality standards have continuously grown. Today, the experience gathered by generations of specialists affects every single Admonter floor board. Furthermore, we only process selected and rigorously tested raw material and every phase of production is subject to countless quality checks. The characteristic three-layer construction is one of the reasons which permit us to grant a 30-year warranty on all our floors. However, leaving figures and warranties aside, the best way to experience the excellent Admonter quality standard is to feel it with every touch, day after day.

REAL CLASSICS ARE NEVER OUT OF FASHION.

Nothing seems permanent in our fast-moving world. Consequently we are always looking to enrich our lives with real values. Thanks to Admonter wide plank floors, this desire can be fulfilled where it matters most – in your own home. Because of the timeless style and longevity of our floors, they are ideal for designing truly classic interiors which retain their beautiful form for decades and gain even more character over the years. Additionally, there are special product lines dedicated to the latest interior design trends. Such an extensive choice of assortments and wood species encourages free reign for creativity, especially when combined with Admonter natural wood panels.

EACH ADMONTER FLOORBOARD IS REAL AUSTRIAN.

We, at Admonter, take our responsibility seriously - both towards our Customers and towards our Employees. In order to guarantee the high quality standard of our products and to protect jobs locally, we exclusively produce our floors in Austria - aided by state-of-the-art production facilities and the know-how which our specialists have accumulated over generations. As a subsidiary company of the Benedictine monastery of Admont with its 900 years of history, we are proud to of this heritage and will continue to carry these traditions into the modern age.

Admonter[®]
YOUR NATURAL FLOOR. AND MORE.

20 SUCCESSFUL YEARS OF ADMONTER PRODUCTS. NOW AND IN FUTURE.

Environmentally friendly. The independent Institute for Construction Biology in Rosenheim (IBR, in Germany) awards our natural floors the IBR certificate seal which guarantees their harmlessness in terms of health and environment.

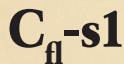

For nature's sake. The timber for our products originates from forests with sustainable forestry which ensures the biodiversity of animals as well as plants.

30 year warranty. STIA grants a 30-year warranty on hidden defects in the floor based on material and manufacturing defects.

Certified security. The CE certificate proves that our products meet with all product-specific norms.

Fire behaviour. The fire behaviour of the Admonter floors is classified according to the Austrian standard ÖNORM EN 13501 - 1:2007 in euro class C_{fl}-s1. This classification is very important for installations in commercial projects. More information at www.admonter.at/Service/Downloads

Each Admonter product is real Austrian. In order to guarantee the high quality standard of our products and to protect jobs locally, we exclusively produce our products in Austria. Now as well as in the future.

Admonter[®]
YOUR NATURAL FLOOR. AND MORE.